

I Don't Know, What Do You Want To Play

First, deal out all of the cards.

Designate a discard pile and a play pile

On your turn:

- > If you have more than one card, choose a card to place on the discard pile
- > If you have only one card, choose to place it on the discard pile, or on the play pile

At any time, so long as you have at least one card in your hand, if someone discards a card you want, then take it and it is again your turn. A card on the play pile may not be removed.

Once everyone is out of cards then randomly draw a card from the play pile, that is the game your group has already agreed to play.
